

Songs from the Chinese

Sprays To Send To My Darling

Crimson sun glinting on white ice,
Yellow blooms reflected on white snow
I break plum sprays to send to my darling
We'll meet together in sunny months of spring

A Soldier Departs

At the end of the lane a soldier departs,
In her room a girl gets down from her loom.
Emotional she cannot speak.
Farewell has soaked her silk gown.

I Can't Resist

Scent on the stairs invades my breast.
Flowers in the garden shine in my eyes.
Spring love is always like this
Comes desire I cannot resist.

True Love Harmonies

Pipes fortissimo can't stop yet!
Strings in finale must start up again!
Both are making true harmonies,
Each is playing sweetheart melodies.

A Sweet Thought

Orchid leaves start filling the ground,
Plum blossom has fallen from the bough.
Since they contain a sweet thought,
I'll scoop some up for him who knows my heart.

Shy Love

Trusting his love she makes as if to draw near,
Then bashful is still reluctant to come close.
Red lips breathe sultry songs,
Jade fingers play flirtatious strings.